

PRESS RELEASE

Ottawa, ON – July 2, 2007 - BioTalent Canada announces partnership with Culpepper Compensation Surveys

BioTalent Canada is partnering with Culpepper Compensation Surveys to publish a new compensation survey for the Canadian bio-economy. The Culpepper/BioTalent Canadian Bio-Economy Compensation Surveys, published by Culpepper, are designed for bioscience and life science organizations that research, develop, manufacture, and commercialize products and services for the Canadian bio-economy, delivering relevant, industry specific compensation data.

“Compensation is a key aspect of recruitment and retention to help create a strong Canadian biotalent pool,” says Colette Rivet, Executive Director of BioTalent Canada. “This exciting new partnership gives Canada’s bio-economy employers access to the most current compensation data so they can compete and thrive.”

Culpepper and Associates is pleased to announce a special offer to those who participate before July 31, 2007. Canadian bioscience and life science organizations that subscribe and participate in Culpepper/BioTalent Canadian Bio-Economy Compensation Surveys by July 31, 2007 receive a FREE annual subscription renewable at no fee through July 31, 2009.
